Harrison's Cabinet Almost Completed.

John F. Swift to Be Secretary of the Interior.

The Navy Portfolio Alone Remains to Be Bestowed.

Official Programme of the Exercise at the Capitol on Inauguration Day--Grover Will Do the Civil.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—[By the Associated Press.] This was Senatorial day at Gen. Harrison's headquarters, and quite a number of Senators had interviews with the President-elect, in many cases by special appointment. Among the callers were Senators Sherman, Stockbridge, Quay, Spooner, Sawyer, Farwell and Platt. The President-elect began to receive visitors early in the elect began to receive visitors early in the morning, and continued to do so until toward 1 o'clock, when he left the hotel aione for a stroll in the direction of his old home near the lowa circle. Vice-President-elect Morton called on the President-elect

Ex-Secretaries Boutwell and McCulloch were among the earliest of the afternoon visitors. Blaine came over and spent a few minutes with Gen. Harrison. Speaker Carlisle called to pay his respects and Chief Justice Fuller to laquire as to the President-elect's wishes in regard to the ceremonies on the stand on the day of inauguration. Other visitors were ex-Senator Ferry, Gen. Schenck, Congressman Guenther of Wisconsin, Murat Haistead, Gen. Swain of the army, ex-Congressman Voorhees of New York, Gov. Cheney of New Hampshire, and H. L. Swords, sergeant-at-arms of the Republican Executive Committee.

About 8 o'clock Senator Sherman walked in. Senator Sherman had hardly seated himself when the President-elect appeared. The two greeted each other with great cordiality, and shortly retired to the seclusion of the General's private parlor. Senator Spooner also had an interview with Gen. Harrison during the evening.

THE CABINET NEARLY COMPLETE. The impression prevails in some circles night that the Cabinet of the incoming Administration is complete, with the excep-tion of the Navy portfolio, and that no further change will be made in the slate as at present arranged. This is the make-up that receives the most credence: Secretary of State—James G. Blaine. Secretary of the Treasury—William Win-dom.

Secretary of the Treasury—William Windom.

Secretary of War—Redfield Proctor.

Secretary of the Navy—(To be filled.)

Secretary of the Interior—John F. Swift.

Attorney-General—John W. Noble.

Postmaster-General—John W. Noble.

Secretary of Agriculture—Jeremiah Rusk.

It is said tonight that Platt and Miller are distinctly out of the race, and the Platt men are much annoyed. New York may get a Cabinet place, but it depends entirely upon the temper of her politicians. Gen.

Harrison, after hearing a great deal about the situation in the Empire State, told Morton that if the Republicans there, without regard to factions or personal difficulties, could unite in recommending some man for a Cabinet place he would have generous consideration.

If such barmony can be brought about,

If such harmony can be brought about, the man named will be given the Navy TOR SALE—240 ACRES OF FINE fritt land at one-half its value. BARBER & CO., Bryson-Bonebrake building.

GOODBICH, St. Nicholas Hotel. pears to be conceded to ex-Gov. Proctor, and the only other place open to him is that of Secretary of Agriculture. This morning the delegations of Wisconsin and Illinois called in a body upon Gen. Harrison, Their visit occasioned some gossip, as have Cabinet combination, but this was defined by members.

W. H. H. Miller, ex-law partner of President-elect Harrison, who accompanied him to this city, and whose name has often been mentioned as the coming Attorney-General, is now talked of as Solicitor-General. He said there was no foundation for the story printed this morning from Toledo that he had written to a friend there saying that he had accepted the position of Attorney-General.

General.

As a result of Congressman Helden's dinner to the New York delegation last night, it is stated today that they will support Gen. George Sharpe for Collector of the port of New York.

Tomorrow morning the President-elect has arranged to receive a number of members of Congress, among them Messrs. Reed, Anderson of Kansas and Crouse of Ohio.

INAUGURATION DAY PROGRAMME.

The President-elect and Vice-President-elect on the morning of inauguration will go to Willard's Hotel, where they will elect on the morning of inauguration will go to Willard's Hotel, where they will occupy the parlor at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Fourteenth street. President Cleveland will call for them there and escort them to the Capitol. The city is assuming a holiday appearance. Flags and banners are being put up on the buildings along the line of the procession, and the work on the stands and at the pension office is approaching completion. There is a large demand for tickets for the ball, and it is expected that they will all be disposed of before the night of the 4th. The Senate Committee on Arrangements has issued the official order of the proceedings at the Capitol on the 4th. The building will be opened at 10 o'clock to those holding cards of admission, and at 11 o'clock the Senate chamber will be thrown open. The blue gallery will be reserved for the families of the diplomatic corps, and the families of the president of the Senate, President-elect and Vice-President-elect will occupy seats west of the diplomatic gallery. The remaining seats, except those in the press gallery, will be open to all having tickets of admission. The President-elect and Vice-President-elect will enter the Capitol through the bronze doors at the head of the marble staps on the east front of the Senate wing of the building. The floor of the Senate and House of Representatives, Justices of the Supreme Court, army and navy officers, heads of departments and other high officials. The Vice-President-elect will take the oath of office in the Senate chamber.

After the organization of the Senate chamber.

Take the oath of omee in the Senate chamber.

After the organization of the Senate, the procession will be formed and march to a stand erected on the east front of the main part of the Capitol, where the President will deliver his inaugural and be sworn in. If weather should be stormy, this ceremony will take place in the Senate chamber. On Saturday morning the signal service will issue an official weather prediction for inauguration day.

President Cleveland and Gen. Harrison have agreed on this programme for inaugration day. After the geremonies at the Capitol the ex-President will return to the Executive Mansion with the President.

National Bankruptcy Bill may be prepared and digested by that body; and board, the time has arrived when a National board, the time has arrived when a National coal legislation, embody provisions for the provision for the provision

After light refreshments occupying but a few minutes to which no guests will be invited, Mr. Cleveland will take leave of President Barrison and drive to the residence of Secretary Fairchild, and President Harrison will proceed to the reviewing stand in front of the White House and review the inaugural procession. #### GETS ONE YEAR.

SABINE, THE LATEST JURY FIXER, GETS A YEAR,

Which Will Show Him That United States Courts Are Not to Be Tampered with By Amateurs-Gone to Join Statesman Cuddy.

"One year in the County Jail of Los Angeles county," said United States Distric Judge Ross yesterday morning to Alejandro Sabine, and there was more than a suspicion of sternness in his voice. The somewhat -looking Mexican received his sentence without any emotion, save a nervous twitch ing of his hands. He had done his best and M. E. C. Munday, Esq., had done his best to clear him of the charge that he had attempted to bribe Witness Bartolo Flores in the San Diego smuggling case against H. Gonjon, now on trial in the United States District Court. Their efforts, however,

The court convened premptly at 9:30 o'clock, and the citation of Sabine for cono'clock, and the citation of Sabine for con-tempt was at once taken up. The court-room was filled with spectators, the sum-mary manner in which Judge Ross deals with offenders against the sanctity of his court being the magnet which drew them there. It was current comment that if Sa-bine was shown to be guilty he would re-ceive even severer punishment than ex-Chief Cuddy did in the W. Moore Young case two weeks ago.

ceive even severer punishment than exChief Cuddy did in the W. Moore Young case two weeks ago.

Flores, the witness, was put on the stand, and gave substantially the statement which has been published. He swore that Sabine had met him in the hall of the court building on Wednesday afternoon, and offered him more money than the Government was riving him as a witness, if he did not testify against Gonjon. He replied that he would not tell more than he knew. In the jury-room Wednesday morning, Sabine had told him that he must not testify against Gonjon. If he did, something would turn up against him. That $60 had been stolen in Tia Juana the day before he left, and he would be prosecuted for it when they went back to Mexico. Sabin said he had stolen the money. The witness replied that, if he was to be prosecuted for telling the truth, he would take the consequences. On crossexamination, Flores testified that several persons were present when the conversations took place—that is, they were near by. He said he lives on Aliso street, where he has been for about 16 days, and that he had never been accused or arrested in Tia Juana for stealing money.

There were several witnesses who corroborated Flores's statement.

R. O. Snedigar, a witness in the case, was in the jury-room when this conversation took place. It was carried on in a low tone of voice, but he heard Sabine talk about $10, and then $25.

C. W. Mansir and Mr. Citaly also over-of veice, but he heard Sabine talk about $10, and then $25. C. W. Mansir and Mr. Citaly also overheard the conversations, and saw Sabine with Flores in the hall and jury-room. Deputy Marshal Ralph Dominguez saw Sabine talking with Flores in the hall, and, calling to Flores, brought him before the District Attorney. Sabine, being put on the stand, denled that he had threatened Flores or tried to bribe him. He admitted talking with him, and that he told Flores that he understood he was going to testify against Gonjon because he had a gradge against him, and told him that he ought to be careful in testifying.

told him that he ought to be careful in testifying.
When the examination was finished Mr. Munday made a strong plea for his ellent. District Attorney Deals rose to his feet to reply, when the Court remarked that it was not necessary for him to review the evidence. He thereupon delived a written decision in the matter, and the judgment was received in the most profound silence. The order was as follows:

JUDGE BOSS'S ORDER. Whereas, during the progress of the trial of the action of the United States vs. Whereas, during the progress of the trial of the action of the United States vs. H. Gonjon in this court, on the 27th day of February, 1889, one Bartolo Flores, a witness on the part of the Government, duly subpensed and in attendance upon the court, testified in substance that while in such attendance on said 27th day of February, one Alejandro Sabine, on two several occasions, once in the jury-room of said court, temporarily used for witnesses, and within a few feet of the courtroom, and once in the hallway of said court building immediately adjoining said court building immediately adjoining said court building immediately adjoining said court to deter the said witness from testifying in behalf of the Government in said cause, and in said hallway did offer the said witness money not to testify against the defendant in said action of the United States vs. Gonjon; and Whereas, suponj such testimony of said Flores, this court then and there made an order directing the said Sabine to show cause before this court at 9:30 o'clock a.m., on the 28th day of February, 1889, at the courtroom thereof, why he should not be adjudged guilty of a contempt of this court; and whereas, on said 28th day of February the said Sabine appeared, with counsel, in response to said order, whereupon the said matter was heard in open court, and whereas for and against him were sworn and their testimony given, and the same having been duly considered by the court, the court matter was heard in open court, and witnesses for and against him were sworn and their testimony given, and the same having been duly considered by the court, the court now finds the facts to be:

That during the progress of the trial of the actior of the United States of America va. H. Gonjon, in this court, on the 27th day of February, 1880, and one Bartolo Flores, a witness on behalf of the Government, duly subpeased and in attendance upon the court, while in such attendance on two several occasions, was approached by the respondent, Alejandro Sabine, and the said Sabine did unlawfully attempt to deter the said Bartolo Flores from testifying for the Government, and offered him money not to testify against defendant, from which facts it is considered and adjudged by the court that the said respondent thereby committed a coutempt of the court, for which contempt ft is by the court now ordered and adjudged that he, the said Alejandro Sabine, be imprisoned in the County Jail of Los Angeles county, Cal., for the period of one year from this date. The Marshal will execute this judgment for the period of one year from this date.
The Marshal will execute this judgment forthwith.

District Judge. February 28, 1889.

CRIED LIKE A CHILD. Sabine controlled himself very well until ourt adjourned, and he was taken into court adjourned, and he was taken into Marshal Risley's office, when he broke down and cried bitterly. He spoke in Spanish, and the tenor of his broken uttersances were that the sentence of the Court ruined him in his business. He said that he was negotiating the sale of two mines in Mexico, and he would lose $20,000 by this continement in not being able to go ahead with his trade. He slos said that he had a little daughter, 13 years old, who was dying of consumption, and it was not expected that she would live many weeks longer. He finally regained his self-control and was taken to the County Jail, where for the next twelve months he is to be a resident.

STARTLING DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED There is a rumor in connection. with Sabine which may or may not be true, or if true susceptible of proof. T. J. Arnold, collector of port of San Diego, and Deputy Collector R. J. Montgomery are in the city, and it is learned that they are in hopes of catching up with extensive smuggling that has been going on upon the frontier. Sabine is reputed to be quite a wealthy man. He has a wholescle cigar and mescal business at Tia Juana and a large brick warehouse just across the line in Mexican Tia Juana. Should the surmises prove true that Sabine is the head-center of smuggling operations on the border his confinement by the United States Court will lead to some startling developments and implicate more than one prominent person on the American and Mexican sides of the fence. Messrs, Brousseau & Hatch, who have been counsel for Gonjon in his case after the sentence of Sabine, asked the Court to be allowed to withdraw from the case, and their request was granted. ir request was granted. The case was continued until this morn-

BLEW HIS BRAINS OUT.

A Young Man, Weary of Living Commits Suicide. Yesterday about noon the dead body of Charles E. Rose, a young man aged 22 or 23 years, was found lying in bed in his room at the boarding-house of H. Docksey, at No. 66 Banning street, he having committed suicide some hours previously by shooting himself through the head. The young man himself through the head. The young man came out from Kansas City some three or four months ago with another young man named George Falkner, and some weeks ago came to Docksey's house, where they remained together until Falkner went up to Portland, Or., about ten days ago. Rose's health was not good, and he could not get employment, and can bahind in his board, owing five weeks' could not get employment, and aran behind in his board, owing five weeks' rent up to date. Falkner promised to make this good, in case his partner did not get employment, and Rose appeared to be quite cheerful, showing no signs that he was worried over his financial condition. Wednesried over his financial condition. Wednesday night he came home as usual, and, after eating his supper, visited one of the rooms is the house occupied by a young man named Otto Herkert, who formerly roomed with him. Herkert was writing some letters at the time, and, after a few words of conversation, asked Rose how he was getting along, when he replied: "Lovely; everything looks all right now, and I have written home for some money." He then picked up a coat which he had come into the room for, and, after a few remarks, went to his own room. This was the last seen of him alive. Yesterday morning about 7:39 o'clock, when Louisa Docksey, the daughter of the proprietor of the house, went to the room for the purpose of cleaning it up, the door was closed. The girl knocked, but receiving no answer, left. Nothing was thought of this, as Rose was in the habit of sleeping late, and in the course of an hour or two, the girl came back and knocked again. There was no response, and after finishing her work, which was about 11:30 o'clock, Miss Docksey went to see if Rose was up. There was no answer to her knock, when she opened the door and looked in. She saw at a giance that something was wrong, and at once went to the mother and told her that something was the matter with Rosa, as his face was covered with blood. Word was sent over to the soap factory for some one to come over, and a young man named Samuel Boeckel responded. Bockel, with one or two others, at once went to the room, and on entering the door a ghastly sight met their eyes. Rose was lying on the bed partially covered, with his head resting in a pool or blood, which had flowed from a ghastly wound in the right temple, just back of the eye, and blood was also oozing from his mouth—running down on each side of his face from the corners of his mouth. There were no sights of a struggle, death having evidently been instantaneous. The flesh around the wound was badly powder-burned, showing that the weapon had been eled with the forefinger of the proper place, even but no one heard the shot, or any unusual noise, during the night, although the rooms adjoining his were occupied.

The family of Rose was notified by tele-graph of his tragic death, and the body will be kept until they are heard from as to what disposition they wish made of it.

AFTER BLOOD.

A Bounced Lover Takes a Shot at His Mistress.

Last night shortly after 8 o'clock, a telephone message was received at the police station, saying that a man had attempted to shoot a woman on Georgia street, and asking that an officer be sent down for the protection of the woman. Several mounted officers were sent to the place, and it was learned that a man known as Capt. Myer had fired a shot at a Mrs. Ranan, a German had fired a shot at a Mrs. Ranan, a German woman who lives at No. 11. It appears that Mrs. Ranan and Myer had been living together, but the woman got tired of him, and wanted to break off the relationship. This enraged Myer, and last night he took a shot at her through the window, but fortunately missed her. The woman was badly frightened, and wanted an officer detailed to watch the house. The affair caused a considerable sensation in the neighborhood, and quite a crowd collected in the vicinity of the place.

A ROYAL RECEPTION

TENDERED TO PAST COM MANDER GEORGE E, GARD.

Welcome from Southern California to the First Commander Chosen from This Section - Address by Col. Wells and Response from Mej. Gard.

The Grand Army posts of Los Angeles, Post Commanders from many Southern California towns participating, gave George E. Gard, the new Department Commander of California, a royal reception last night at G.A.R. Hall on Main street. The occasion was not intended to be local in its nature, but a Southern California welcome to the first Department Commander from Southern California. There were Post Commanders and members present from Pasadena, Po-mona, Riverside, San Bernardino, Compton and other points, and when the proceedings began at 8 o'clock the hall was crowded. There has not been such an assen old veterans for many days, and as they touched elbows it could be plainly seen their memories traveled back over the days when they marched for their country's good under their country's flag.

After the "assembly," Post Commander W. J. Brown of Bartlett Post No. 6, president of the occasion, conducted the opening ceremonies, and Comrade E. T. M. Hurlbut gave an instrumental selection.

The presentation of the new Department Commander was made by a committee consisting of Past Post Commanders L. S. Butter, E. P. Johnson, E. M. Hamilton and all Past Commanders from outside places present.

After the presentation of the Department Commander he was conducted to a seat on the rostrum.

An address of welcome was delivered by G. Wiley Wells. He referred to the distinction which Southern California has achieved in the election of Maj. Gard, and recalled the stirring scenes of the war. He believed that under the administration of the new comma nder, not only would the interests of the order in the State be preserved, but that the recognition of the soldier's right to pension would be more fully secured. He referred to the fact that the soldier is now more properly recognized than he has ever been before, and when he alluded to the fact that a soldier and comrade would soon be President, the soldier boys almost raised the roof off the building. Department Commander Gard replied to the welcome in a brief but eloquent address. He admitted the embarrassments under which the new administration would rest inasmuch as it was well recognized in the encampment at Stockton that his election meant a new departure, and he felt that he had been elected for the purpose of making changes in the policy of the department, He expressed his deep sense of thankfulness for the honor which had been conferred upon him, and hoped that his administration would be in Los Angeles.

Upon the conclusion of his happy speech, the room rang with three cheers for the Commander, and they were given with uncomfortable vigor and enthusiasm.

There was a

Several resolutions were passed, one of which was to the effect that no member of the committee shall indorse the application of any candidate for an appointment as a committeeman.

It was also resolved that the committee's work is not over, and, that under the new charter, the Republican party is responsible to the people, and for that reason, the men who are appointed under the recently elected officers must be men who will conduct themselves in such a manner that they will not be called upon to resign. But if it does become necessary for any man appointed to step down and out, the committee will be the first to demand his head.

man appointed to step committee will be the first to demand his head.

The committee resolved to look after the appointments, and decided to hold another meeting in about a week, when they will discuss the candidates, and as a body will indorse the men whom they consider the best timber.

The committee was unanimous in their determination to have none but good men appointed to office. Before the committee adjourned a vote of thanks was tendered Col. Moore for the work done by him in the last campaign.

Charged with Arson.

The examination of A. D. Proch and A. Williams, charged with arson, was begun in Justice Savage's court yesterday afternoon. On the night of February 6th, in Wilmington, Proch's house burned down, and he is charged with having caused it to be burned to secure the insurance of $2000 which had been placed on it.

Several witnesses were examined yesterday afternoon, and it was sworn by some of them that Proch had approached them with a proposition to set fire to his house, offering a good stake to secure the accomplishment of his purpose.

The testimony was not concluded, when the Court continued the case until this morning at 9:30 o'clock.

There were no new developments in the Compton cutting afray yesterday. Castro remains at the County Jall, and the Frenchman who was carved is still in about the same condition as was Wednesday night. It is now believed that he will recover. His name is Julian Erro, and he was employed on the ranch with Castro. The trouble, as was first stated, was caused by a woman. The case will probably go hard with Castro, as it is claimed that Erro was unarmed at the time the assault was committed.

County Jati Boarders.

The following were the arrivals at the County Jail yesterday: Ramon Valenzuela, insane, County Hospital; Wat Keefe, disturbing the peace, and Alexandre Sabine, contempt of court, city; Frank Simmons, vagrancy, Pasadena; John Burton and George Allison, petty larceny, city; William Jones, vacrancy, San Fernando. There were 139 prisoners in the tanks at 7 o'clock last evening.

A QUEER THREAT

Uttered by a Fruit Peddler Who Got Into Trouble.

Hamane Officer Wright had a rather exciting time yesterday morning growing out of the arrest of a young fruit peddler mamed Simon Sullivan. Mr. Wright is a very quiet man, not given to making a show of his authority, and, as he wears no uniform, he is frequently imposed upon by teamsters and others, who try to "run a bluff" on him and try to buildoze him when in the legitimate discharge of his duties. For some time past there has been more or less complaint of cruelty to animais by thoughtless drivers overloading their teams, and often when the humane officer has stopped the teams for the purpose of investigation he has been insulted by the men in charge, who would tell him that it was none of his business, or that he was a meddlesome old crank, and make other remarks of a disparaging character. This sort of thing continued until Mr. Wright saw that his efficiency would be impaired unless he made an example of some of them. So that yesterday morning when he saw Sullivan's wagon ou Temple street, which he thought was overloaded, and, in answer to his inquiries, Sullivan tried to run the usual bluff on him, he asserted himself. The irate fruit dealer at first tried to gnote the officer altogether, but as Mr. Wright would not be bluffed, some angry words followed, is which Mr. Wright was told to go to the devil, or words to that effect, and on his persisting in trying to get an answer to his questions, Sullivan lost his temper and struck at him, when Mr. Wright displayed his badge and placed him under arrest and took him to the station, where he beoked nim for assault. This Sullivan denied, saying that he had not struck Wright, but, on finding that he would either have to put up bali of be locked up, he caused a scene by declaring that if he was locked up he would never do another day's work as long as he lived, and induged in a lot of other wild talk. He did not have the money with him, he said, to put up bali, and he was locked up, but in a few minutes was taken

Another Jury Called on to Assess Character.
A funny damage suit occupied the time in Judge Van Dyke's court yesterday. The plaintiff was Mrs. S. J. Brummett, a Christian Science healer, and the defendant J. H. Pattison, an attorney. Mr. Pattison's mother was boarding with Mrs. Brummett, and under her treatment for some time, and when the proved sowers! Joyce solid allows when she moved several dozen solid sliver spoons belonging to her were mysteriously missing, and could not be found. In talkspoons belonging to her were mysteriously missing, and could not be found. In talking about the matter, it is alleged that Mr. Pattison made some remarks reflecting on Mrs. Brummett in connection with the spoons, which came to Mrs. Brummett's ears, whereupon she sued Pattison for $10,000 for defamation of character and slander. Mitchell & Davis appeared for the plaintiff and J. L. Murphy for the defendant. The testimony was very rich, and considerable amusement was had at the expense of the "healer." The defense set up the plea that the whole thing was purely a blackmailing scheme, and that Mrs. Brummett's character could not be damaged. In arguing the case, Mr. Murphy, after impressing this fact on the plaintiff was not entitled to damages at all; but he would say this much, that in case a si verdict was returned he would guarantee that the fact would not be heralded as a glorious victory, as was the case in a suit a short time ago. The case was given to the lury at 6 o'clock, and 20 minutes later they returned with a unanimous verdict in favor of Pattison.

A LEGEND OF SAN GABRIEL. Full orbed the moon in nightly course Climbed Sierra Madre's crested crown, And lighted up San Gabriel's cross, Its pillard walls and shaded grounds.

Round domed the sky, in fadeless blue, Above the stars, majestic tread, Let full its draughts of liquid dew On grasses parched above the dead.

No hurrying winds assailed the trees, Whose foliage green eternal hangs, But like the bay hemmed silent seas Imposing stiliness brooded round.

was midnight's lone unhappy hour, For hearts surcharged with cankering wo hen conscience hath supremest power To banish gladness from the soul.

Beside the altar dimiy shone, And ghostly shadows of the night Made darker seem the sickly gloom.

Wide swung San Gabriel's ponderous doc Like God's great gate to death's abode, For closed they never, but open ever For weary souls with sinful loads.

be aged priest within his home Lay draped in vestment for the tomb, and candles bright around him shone, While all else there was cast in gloom.

Two days in state the holy dead, Had rested on the black-robed bler, And solemn prayers, and chants were said Midst sobs and groans and bitter tears.

Hushed now all life, hushed now all sound. The watchers mute in sorrow sat, And shadows deep encased the ground Enshored by moonbeams circling round.

When at that hour of midnight's gloom From down the path, through yonde trees, Came footsteps slow, like spirits doomed To walk the shores of Stygian seas.

Past trees, past church, past holy dead, To where the moon's pale light had play. There paused that aslow and mournful thread As if uncertain of its way.

Nor mantle, veil or hood was there To hide that girlish, rounded form, With hair unbound and feet quite bare. And to the shoulders gleamed her arms.

But oh! the agony written there,
Which so enwrapped that beateous fair
That well she symbolized despair
When desperate grown, and death would dare.

'Tis legend in the Arab's land
That on heil's dark, forbidden shore
(A narrow, slippery, shelving strand),
Roam spirits doomed for evermore
To walk that God-forsaken shore.

That darkness hangs eternal there, And ceaseless winds are swirling round, And chilling fogs invade the air While glaring ice pervades the ground.

That miles above the crags arise, And miles below lies seathing hell, Too light to sink, too gross to rise, These ghosts with tearless, glaring eyes Hang midway in that demon well.

Not more of wee could there be seen Had one of these escaped its doom, And walked that path 'neath foliage green. And paused where shone the rounder

A time remained, then slowly turned, And backward took her weary way, Toward where the altar lights still burned And through the door sent feeble rays.

Paused she again, then softly crept, And peered within that sacred place, Now still as if the dead there crept. 'Neath stone-laid floor and altar plece.

Then like a guilty, sorrowing soul, With downcast eyes and piteous face, She inward passed the portal cold, To where the lights filled in the space.

The imaged Virgin stood before, And upward reared the sacred cross, And altar gilded glistened there, Midst painted saints and relies rare By plous hands preserved from loss.

Then downward bent her stubborn knees, As if a hand had pressed her down, And glist'ning tears from those dark eyes 'Like jewels gleamed upon the stone.

Her hands and arms, like ivory white, Were upward raised toward cross And through the stillness of the night This piteous prayer broke into sound:

'I am poor Meta, Father God,
Whose very soul with sin is sore.
ask for rest beneath the sod—
I cannot, dare not, ask for more.

And dost Thou hear, Almighty One— Hear Meta, the Magdalone, pray? ity, Oh God, in the name of Thy Son, Who never turned woman away."

And as she paused her list'ning ears Heard sweetest music softly sung. And angels bright caught up her tear That glistened on the stone.

And there appeared transfigured bright, By altar, cross, and virgin crowned That aged priest in ghostly light That quivering gleamed on all around.

O'er Meta's head his hands were spread.
And toward the roof his face was turned.
And from above a ray of light
Shot from the bosom of the night,
Shone on them in effulgence bright
As if ten thousand lamps there burned.

No mortal eye hath ever seen.
On mortal face a smile so bright,
Nor ear of man hath heard, I ween,
A voice 'postolic so serene,
Of hope assured, of bliss supreme
As at that hour of central night
On spectral priest shined forth as light.

"Great Master, if I know Thy will, And in my soul I feel I do, Thou dost absolve this terring child, Whose wayward feet have led her wild, Now humbly kneeling prays to You.

Oh! woman, thou wert made to weep As sure as thou wert made to love, And angels true a record keep Of all thy sins on scrolls above.

But though they there forever write Where fadeless suns eternal glow, There's naught remains of all that's writ-Her tears doth wash it white as snow.

On rolled the years in tireless march, As obbs and flows old ocean's tide. The grasses green, the summers parched, Except that grave, there fadeless green A verdant spot forever seen, When all around was somber gray.

Through all those years no morning sun But watered found those grasses bright, And every day's awakening sun Saw resting there a lily white. And he who watched 'twixt twelve and dawn

Beside that church-yard's silent dead,
In star-lit night or surging storm,
Saw robed in black a woman's form
With pallid face and stately tread,
Her feet quite bare, undraped her head,
Hovering o'er that ghostly bed.

And like her face, and like her hair,
But no more white, and no more fair,
The lily pure her corrage wore.
And still as moves the wingless air.
She sought that grave and kneeling there
She seemed in silent prayer.

The watcher, too, with humble mien
Bowed low his head and list'ning s
To hear the words, but like refrain
Of music distant yet more plain
These words repeated oft again,
"Our God is good, our God is love."

The watcher's eye then sought the place
Where last he saw on bended kness
That vision rare; 'twas open space,
And though he sought that saintly face
Across the dead by church and trees.

It was as if the open seas

Had sucked her down; behind no trace
Except he saw, like starry gem,
That lily pure upon the green,
Which gieamed a spotless diadem,
And fading, there no more was seen.

The summer's sun hath parched to gray
Through many years that verdant spot,
The cross above sunk in decay,
Yet watching eyes hath seen her not
Who guarded it through weary years,
And gemmed its grass with woman's tears.

But oft, when night her robes unfurl.
And listening ears await the sound.
Soft strains are heard, as if the chords
Of music touched were floating round.

Saloon Licenses.

There will soon be a discussion in the City Council regarding saloon licenses. Many are of the opinion that the annual license should be raised to $1000. and made payable half yearly, or yearly, in advance. The licens Boston has been $1000, and the Police Commissioners of that city have just raised it 50 per cent. Besides there is a provision there fixing the number of liquor licenses which could be issued at one for every 500 of the population. There is no fear that the new administration of Los Angeles will attempt anything of a fanatical character in regard to the saloons. All that is desired is a reasonable restriction. Licenses should only be granted to men of good character; they should not be granted to saloons close to each other, and even if the amount of license be not raised, it should at least be made payable annually, in advance. Almost anyone can pay down $50, and run a saloon for a month to suit himself, but the man who pays out $600 cash is going to be very careful that he does not forfeit his license by misbehavior. For this reason, we say that the saloon licenses should be made payable annually, in advance, as they are in many eastern cities. Six hundred dollars a year, in advance, would be more effective as a security for orderly houses than a thousand dollars a year, payable monthly.

A New Base Line.

Prof. George Davidson of the coast and geodetic survey has returned to San Francisco, after four months of field service in this county. He has been at work with a large party of assistants to establish a base line here similar to that located some years ago in Yolo county.

The base line m geodesy is one actually measured, from which all other distances in the survey are calculated, and upon which all triangulation depends for accuracy. The Yolo base is now used for all operations on the northern coast. The line just located will serve as a check on possible errors in calculations from the Yolo base. It will be of great value for all surveying calculations on the southern coast. Captain Lawson of the coast survey made a general survey for the Los Angeles pase some time ago, and the present final line does not differ more than ten or fifteen yards at any point from Lawson's line. The party had four And now Colombia is growling at | months of very lively work, but the results were most satisfactory. Prof. Davidson is confident that no divergence greater than one-fourth of an inch in the surveyed lines can be

Boulanger,

The latest fake of Gen. Boulanger is his having his mind read by an American ghost sharp. Evidently Boulange is a first-class fakir, whose great ambi-tion is to keep himself continually before the French people, in the hope one day of imitating the third Napoleon. It is scarcely to be believed that he can be successful, although one can never tell what is likely to happen in France. The hold which Boulanger has already on the feeble people of La Belle France is most remarkable, and it would not be very surprising to see the General go in as President, Dictator, and finally Emperor. He has recently written a letter of thanks to friends in the United States, who have congratulated him. We should say that the number of such admirers is not very large. The sense of the ridiculous is very strongly developed in this country, and Boulanger has succeeded in making himself very ridiculous.

JOAQUIN MILLER has made his home in Oakland, but he recognizes the merits of Southern California. In a recent issue of a San Francisco journal he says:

he says:

Los Angeles is building, building, building great stone and brick structures that remind us of the most impressive edifices in New York. Let us here in the city of churches stop lying about our own glory and go to work. True, we are building huilding right along; but we are building no faster than San Diego, and not nearly so fast nor so substantially as Los Angeles. And, I repeat, we are not nearly as big as either place.

Gov. SwineFord indignantly denies the alleged outrageous treatment of women and children in Alaska, charged by Mrs. Voorhees and by several ex-special agents of the Treasury Depart-ment, notably Gavitt and Ryan. He also takes exception to the reports of missionaries. He cannot agree with the methods of all of them, and calls the attention of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions to the record of its missionaries in Alaska. He says he has no charges to make, but that the board can easily learn for itself, if it cares to, the state of religious affairs in Alaska,

RUMOR has it that Russell Sage, Jay Gould and one or two other eminent railroad operators contemplate grad-ually withdrawing their funds from their present investments, preparatory to heavy operations in real estate. Real estate is growing in favor as an investment in this country.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT THE OPERA-HOUSE.-The Camille of Mme. Modjeska is a woman so lovable, so tender, so refined in thought and action that one can but doubt whether such a woman could ever have been Margaret Gautier with her sins and her evil past. The picture of the rescue of a soul through an earnest, self-sacrificing and noble love, is none the less a beautiful one, and as portrayed by Mme. Modjeska seems at once a truth and a possibility. To one who has seen it again and again many little changes are noticed, an inflection here, a gesture there, all making toward a perfect gesture there, all making toward a perfect whole.

Mr. Vanderfelt makes a warm and ardent lover, and the audience have not the despair, as is so often the case, of witnessing the wealth of exquisite affection lavished on an irresponsive "Armand."

Throughout the present engagement Mr. E. J. Henley has snown marked talent, and better and more, marked originality, and has given to roles of ancient standing new interpretations. Thus, as the "Count de Varsille," his manner while with "Camille" was as natural as it was new, and full of truth to life. Mrs. Bates made a very jolly, hard hearted, mercenary "Prudence," and Charlotte Tittell was sweet and sympathetic as "Olympe." Tonight, Cymbetine.

NEED A LESSON.

High-minded Doings by the Colon Boston, Feb. 28.—[By the Associated Press.] A complication has arisen between the United States of America and the United States of Colombia. A schooner went from here to Aspinwall with a cargo of ice. When the vessel was partly unloaded the Colombian Government stopped further work and closed up the houses of the Boston Ice Company with several hundred tons of ice. This action was taken because the Government had sold the exclusive right to sell ice to a home company. As Aspinwall is a free port this is considered an infraction of a treaty, and on appeal to Secretary Bayard he so notified Colombia. The United States steam ers Ossipee and Atlanta were dispatched to Aspinwall, but at latest advices had done nothing to effect a settlement. The United States Consul at Aspinwall has been notified by Secretary Bayard that force is not authorized against the Colombian Government.

The action of the Colombian authorities hrs been peculiarly harsh throughout the difficulty. Colombia is very defiant in tone, and says the United States has not the ability to coerce them. loaded the Colombian Government stopped event of the Home-rule Parliament being granted to Ireland.

In reply to questions, Smith, Government leader, declared that nobody on behalf of the Government had intimated that the Times would be recouped by a parliamentary grant for the expenses connected with the Parnell Commission.

Mr. Healy asked whether attention had been called to the fact that as far back as November the Attorney-General had received a statement from Pigott to the effect that he could not bear a cross-examination before the commission? before the commission? Parneillite cheers. Having regard for this, he asked, did the Government retain confidence in Attorney-General Webster?

Mr. Smith asked that due notice of the question be given if Mr. Healy's reference was to Sir Richard Webster's discharge of his duties as Attorney-General.

Mr. Healy gave notice of a motion that in the opinion of the House the Attorney-General has forfeited confidence.

Shaw-Lefever, resuming the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, charged the Irish executive with increasing the rigors of coercion in Ireland during the recess. They were afraid to face the discussion in Parliament. Immediately after Parliament was prorogued the first step of the executive was to prosecute 11 Irish members. In resisting the efforts to class them as ordinary prisoners the Parneilites had the opinion of the world on their side.

Chausberlain held that the speakers of the opposition had made the debate by avoiding the main issue. Why did not the opposition give the country reasons for revising the present policy? Let the opposition if it possessed a policy produce a series of resolutions expressing it. Possibly a large section of Parliament might agree with it. At least the House and the country should be enabled to grapple with something definite. He appealed to the opposition to place the discussion on a broad and sound basis by informing the House fully what was its scheme to content Ireland and bring about a union of hearts with interests. [Cheera.]

In the course of debate T. W. Russell, Liberai Unionist, apparently accused Dillon of paying for the defense of murderers. "It is a foul ite," exclaimed Dillon, springing excitedly to his feet. The suppression of the Patriotic League was decided upon at a council held at Elysee Palace. Afterward Premier Tirard, Constans, Minister of the interior, and Thevenet, Minister of Justice, had a conference with the Procureur-General and the

It now appears that Laguerre and Laisant were arrested for disrespect to the Commissary of Police, Deronlede, on the arrival of the police, having telephoned for the Boulangist Deputies. Both were provisionally liberated. Ten warrants were issued. No warrant was issued for Laguerre. It is believed that the suppression of the Patriotic League is the first of a series of steps to suppress Boulangiam, and a pretext to discover the organization of the league. The police today made three searches for papers belonging to the league. At a solrée given to artists and authors tonight, Gen. Boulanger said: "It is deplorable that France, who has not fired a gun for so long a time, should now fire on our friends the Russians." Gen. Boulanger was the object of much attention from a large number of guests.

THE GREAT AQUEDUCT JOB.

The Great AQUEDUCT JOB.

The Congressional committee to investigate the charges of fraud in the construction of the new Washington aqueducshas made its report, which says: "Beyond all question, substantially the whole and every part of the lining of the tunned is absolutely and enormously defective, and it is scarcely too much to say that there is hardly any continuous length of ten feet in the whole lining where the backing, particularly over the arch of the line, is not either absolutely wanting, or only partly filled, or when fully filled in, is so badly constructed as to make the whole backing of the lining entirely worthless." The report says it would take nearly a million dollars to put the tunnel in good shape, and recommends that it be abandoned and iron pipe be substituted at a cost of half a million.

This volume is an interesting novel. illustrative of German life. It is the old, old story which never fails to touch the human heart, and which is as full of romance and beauty today as when it was first told in Eden. It is somewhat after the style of "Marlitt," but acknowledged by German critics to be superior to those writings.

KILDHUNN'S OAK. By JULIAN HAW THORNE. New York: A. L. Burt, Pub-lisher.

This is one of the popular American novels of the Manhattan Series. It is a little volume of tragedy and sorrow, teaching the lesson that retribution, even in this life, is apt to follow the evil-doer, and it shows moreover that the really strong thing in life is human nature.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES,

Takes Up the Cudgel for Damron. ORANGE, Feb. 28.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] It is not strange that Assemblyman Damron should resent the interference of the Supervisors. What right have they to dictate this and instruct that in legislative business? They were not elected to supervise the Legislature, nor even the interests of this county in the Legislature. There is a division of labor and responsibility in government as well as in the arts, and the Supervisors have gotten out of their sphere.

The national Constitution says, with reference to members of Congress, that "for any speech or debate in either House they shall not be questioned in any other place;" and if a little of this immunity from carping criticism could be extended to our legislators they would do just as well. If there is anything to complain of, the remedy lies in the election of representative men rather than in seeking to degrade the member into a mouthpiece for a faction. Respectfully, S. Armor. Road That Would Be An Immense Benefit to Los Angeles-Hunting ton Again-San Diego's Railroad Eastern Notes and Railroad Per-

It is almost a foregone conclusion that Owens Valley, in Inyo county, and Los Angeles will be connected by rail in a very short time. Only 120 miles of rail will have to be put down to bring the Carson and Colorado road to Mojave.

The president of this road is now in correspondence with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and these gentlemen are doing all in their power to induce him to complete his road to Mojave. A letter was received from him the other day, him to complete his road to Mojave. A letter was received from him the other day, in which he stated that he would be here in a few days, and the members of the chamber are confident that they will be able to come to some kind of an understanding with him. If they are successful, it will be a very big thing for Los Angeles, as the Carson and Colorado road is one of the best little roads in the Union, and passes through scenery that cannot be surpassed in the world, and one of the finest mining and agricultural countries in the United States.

EXCURSION AGENTS.

of the finest mining and agricultural countries in the United States.

EXCURSION AGENTS.

The passenger associations and railroad companies are determined to wipe the excursion agents out of existence. The Western States Passenger Association has issued a set of rules in regard to the excursion business. Hereafter no reduced rates will be made for any number of people under 500 at less than one fare and one-third for round trip, and the minimum rate for any number under 500 will be not less than one fare for the round trip. The rule requiring the signatures or purchasers of mileace and other tickets in the presence of the agent selling them has been reaffirmed. The association will issue rate sheets quarterly, instead of monthly, hereafter.

The statement comes from Chicago that eastbound rates from all points in the West are again demoralized, but this is denied by the agents of the transcontinental lines, who say that rates from this coast are being steadily maintained.

HUNTINGTON AND TOWNE.

HUNTINGTON AND TOWNE, A. N. Towne, general manager of the outhern Pacific, who was in this city a few Southern Pacific, who was in this city a few days ago, has gone to New Orleans to meet C. P. Huntington, one of the principal owners of the Southern Pacific Company's roads. It is rumored that Mr. Huntisgton, who is one of the most powerful railroad men in the United States, as well as the richest, is about to take an interest in the Santa Fé system, and will take an active hand in the management of that company on this coast. The Santa Fé people deny that there is any truth in this story.

SAN DIEGO'S RAILROAD.
The San Francisco Examiner says: The

SAN DIEGO'S RAHLROAD.

The San Francisco Examiner says: The destination of the Cuyamaca and Eastern Rallroad (Gov. Waterman's road) has been giving rise to considerable speculation ever since the first day of its incorporation.

Considerable of this doubt was removed last Friday by the filing in the office of the Recorder of San Diego county of a first mortgage for $6,250,000 by the representatives of the Mercantile Trust Company of. New York on the rights, franchise and property of the San Diego, Cuyamaca and Eastern Rallway Company.

Although the total amount of the mortgage is stated at $6,250,000, the terms of the mortgage provide that the bonds shall only be issued at the rate of $85,000 a mile, at which rate they will be forthcoming as fast as the road is built.

Speaking of the mortgage, a well-informed rallroad man said:

"The officers of the road all along have estimated the cost of construction at $25,000 per mile. Accepting this estimate as correct, it is evident that $6,250,000, the face value of the mortgage, will build exactly 250 miles of road. Consult any reliable map, and you will see that a line of this length running in a northeasterly direction from San Diego will reach a point at or near Needles.

"It is not at all likely that a mortgage for $6,250,000 would have been plaged on twenty, miles of road to Lakeside, which thus far has been regarded as the eastern terminus. There can no longer be any doubt but what the San Diego, Cuyamaca and Eastern is to form a part of a transcontinental system."

The stockholders in the proposed rallroad to be built from Fresno to the mountains, twelve miles west of that city, met last Saturday night. The meeting was mainly for the purpose of listening te the report of the committee was entirely satisfactory, and the capitalists interested in the enterprise are more fully determined than ever to build the road.

EASTERN NEWS.

The following clippings are from the St.

A prominent railroad authority states: "It is claimed that the fact that the railroad companies are ready and willing to redeem the unused portions of all tickets which purchasers for any reason have failed to use has changed the sentiment of the people generally in regard to the business of ticket scalping, and an amendment to the act to regulate commerce prohibiting this practice by a national law would undoubtedly receive the support of the better class of business men throughout the country, as the public can plainly see that whatever reductions were then made by the railroad companies would go directly to the pools, and not be largely absorbed by a middle class which has built itself up without benefting either the public or the railways."

The proposed new Congo Railway has been surveyed over its entire route, and work on it will probably soon be begun. The length of the route is variously stated at from 200 to 250 miles, the precise length to be built now being still not fully decided; the engineers state that it will take two or three years to build it, and that it will cost about $5,000,000. When finished it will be the most important means yet secured for opening the heart of Africa to civilization, as it operates in connection with steamer lines above and below it. The work of reducing the heart of Africa to civilization is going rapidly forward, more rapidly than is generally appreciated. A railroad authority says: "The ticket scalpers will not go until they are smoked out, it seems, and their association funds will be used to the best effect to prevent more legislation hostile to their interests. Though the Interstate Commerce Commission says their business is not lawful, and different States have outlawed them, they claim to be benefactors of the public and aids to the roads themselves."

It is announced that the Grand Trunk is preparing to make experiments with an electric car-heating apparatus invented by an employé in the Grand Trunk shops at Portland, Me. It consists of a dynamo placed in the bagagae-car, power being taken from the Indian madens and braves made long and tedious journess every autumn to drink from these springs and to lave them in the "medicine waters." The secret of the many virtues they possessed was conded to but a few, when the Coronado Water Company learned of it and bought the right to the springs. After spending large sums and developing them they have been rewarded by securing an inexhaustible hving stream of the purest and

The Analysis

And report of the eminent Chicago chemist, C. Gilbert Wheeler, shows a remarkable similarity in the ingredients of the Coronade and Wisconsin Waukesha waters; he says that in fact their miedicinal properties are almost identical. There is one thing, however, in fayor of the Coronade Waukesha Springs: They contain but one-half of the organic matter found in the Wisconsin Waukesha. Thus, while they are possessed of the same virtues in KIDNEY AND BLADDER TWOUBLES, the Coronado is absolutely the purer water. Lucats of the hotel, especially among ared persons, have had great relief, and some rapid cures have been made from using the Coronado Waukesha.

A STATEMENT WANTED. A STATEMENT WANTED.

The Star, in a lengthy article this evening, urges the City Council to turn over the books of the city for public inspection. The demand is brought on by the tardiness of the officials in sub-mitting a statement of the city's bank account to the public. No dishonesty is hinted at, but a fair, clear showing of our resources asked for at an early late.

Then and Now.

[Baltimore Manufacturers' Re cord.]

Compare the South of today with the South of 10 years ago. Populous towns where then were dreary cotton-fields; the bustle and life of industry, the evidences of wealth, where were decay and desolation; the smoke of factories and whirr of machinery where was perpetual silence; railroads and thriving villages where were trackless forests and undeveloped wastes. Observe these changes, and remember that this is only the beginning.

G. G. Green—Dear Sire: I am frequently troubled with severe colds, and the only remedy that will relieve me of them is your Boschee's German Syrup. I have used it for more than twelve years. It is a constant household companion with me. Our merchant nere procured it first at my solicitation, and says he has sold a great many bottles. It is a very popular remedy in this section. Every person who has used it speaks in the highest terms of its merits. I do not know of a single case it has not cured. I first used it in Vermont, where I lived before coming here. I advise every one to use it, as it is certainly the best cough medicine I have ever known. I have tried nearly all of them as different times. Yours respectfully. Moses Grav.

ANNUAL TRADE NUMBER.

-CONTAINING-

A COMPLETE REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

Fifty-six Large Pages. Equivalent to a Two Hundred Page Book.

The Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES, now ready, is the most complete and in teresting publication of that character ever published in Los Angeles.

NOTABLE FEATURES—It contains a business review of the year, embracing a great mass of valuable facts bearing on the city and country a thorough exposition of embracing resources—mineral, vegetable, commercial and climatic; a review of the rise s of progress of the boom, with solid proofs that the country is now in better condition than it was during the height of the real-estate excitement; a carefully complied exposition of the varied inducements which Southern California offers to the health-seeker, the homeseeker and the tourist, besides a number of interesting and valuable special articles on pertinent subjects. It contains more solid information about the country than could be crowded into the compass of a hundred long letters, and for a few cents and the exponditure of a few minutes time in writing the address you can send a friend more information than you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For a dollar you can supply ten families in the frozen East with information that may lead them to join the army of pilgrims to Southern California, to their own and this country sadvantage. Thus, whether viewed from the standpoint of friendship or self-interes 1: 1 w., il be seen that no better use can be made of a dollar than by purchasing the rewith ten copies of the great Annual Trade Number of TRE TIMES. Not one-tenth of the pleasure can be bestowed in any other way for the same amount of money.

This has been demonstrated in thou of cases treated by DR. WILLIAMS.

roduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Taroat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption. TARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the bead, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold. Indeed, he deciares he is soarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is slways exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in the sensation of dryness is sometimes felt in the sensation of dryness is sometimes felt in the sensation of dryness a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath leasens upon a lattle exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the cheat to breathe; these and other symptoms cocur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this point the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will 'wear off,' declare that he has had the catarrh for years and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts he will 'pand-by recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cometeries of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally recour.
